Lokmanya Mahavidyalaya, Warora (Estd. 1998)

Lok Shikshan Sanstha, Warora, a facilitator of quality education, came into existence in 1951. Since its very inception, the Sanstha has been striving hard to continue its journey towards academic excellence and cultural refinement. Among the host of educational institutions run by the Sanstha, Lokmanya Mahavidyalaya is comparatively a new addition. Established just about nineteen years ago in 1998, the Mahavidyalaya has grown considerably from insignificant infancy to significant adolescence. Its growth, as an educational institution, has witnessed a quality change in the teaching-learning environment of the tribal-dominated township of Warora, and its suburb of rustics and less urbane.

Prior to the emergence of Lokmanya Mahavidyalaya, there were colleges in the town which were providing higher education to the young enthusiasts. But they were distantly located and over-burdened. In addition, most of the existing institutions were ill-equipped, insensitive to the varying emotions of the young generation, least prepared to switch over to the new changes occurring in the socio-educational fabric. There was, therefore, need of a senior college within the limits of easy access, and which could provide quality education to young students, especially, girls and those belonging to remote localities.

Of course, the Mahavidyalaya imparts co-education, but, because of its prime location and its adherence to student-centric philosophy of pedagogy, it is most suitable for the weaker gender. Within a very short span of time, the college has got recognition from U.G.C. under 2(f) and 12(B) sections of U.G.C. Act 1956. Moreover, it has been assessed and accredited by National Council Assessment and Accreditation (NAAC), Bagalore and has got Grade 'B'.

Fully computerized administrative office with the facilities of Internet and uninterrupted power supply through solar-voltic power generating system, spacious library with commendably good collection of quality books, journals and other reading material, a well-equipped computer centre, and a set of scholarly qualified faculties make the college a centre of excellent learning. A well-developed play-ground and exquisite sports material add to the facilities necessary for the round development of the learners. An In-door sports facility is constructed, and is set open for the students.

Subject : Inclusion of new points in the new syllabus of B.A. Third Year English and English Literature.

Honorable Sir,

We are Vaibhav D. Khisatkar and Nilesh P. Masalkar. We are learning in B.A. Third Year in Lokmanya Mahavidyalaya, Warora, Dist - Chandrapur.

While studying in Third Year, we expected the study of 'e-mail' and 'common-errors' in English. But when we actually saw the syllabus, we didn't find these topics in it. Moreover, we expected one of the plays in the syllabus of B.A. Third Year English Literature by our Indian playwrights like Vijay Tendulkar, Girish Karnad etc. But we had to study Shakespeare in both the semesters. In addition, we will not feel wonder, if innovative practices like group discussion, debates etc. be included in the syllabus of English compulsory.

① E-mail : It is important to learn formally to write e-mail and give reply to e-mail. We heard that it has more weightage in the new NAAC process.

② Common Errors: We students learn English, but we commit many mistakes. We cannot understand them. We think we are right. But actually we are grammatically wrong. Moreover, Third Year is the last chance in the lives of many students to learn more and more about English. So we expect the inclusion of Common- errors in the syllabus of B.A. Third Year.

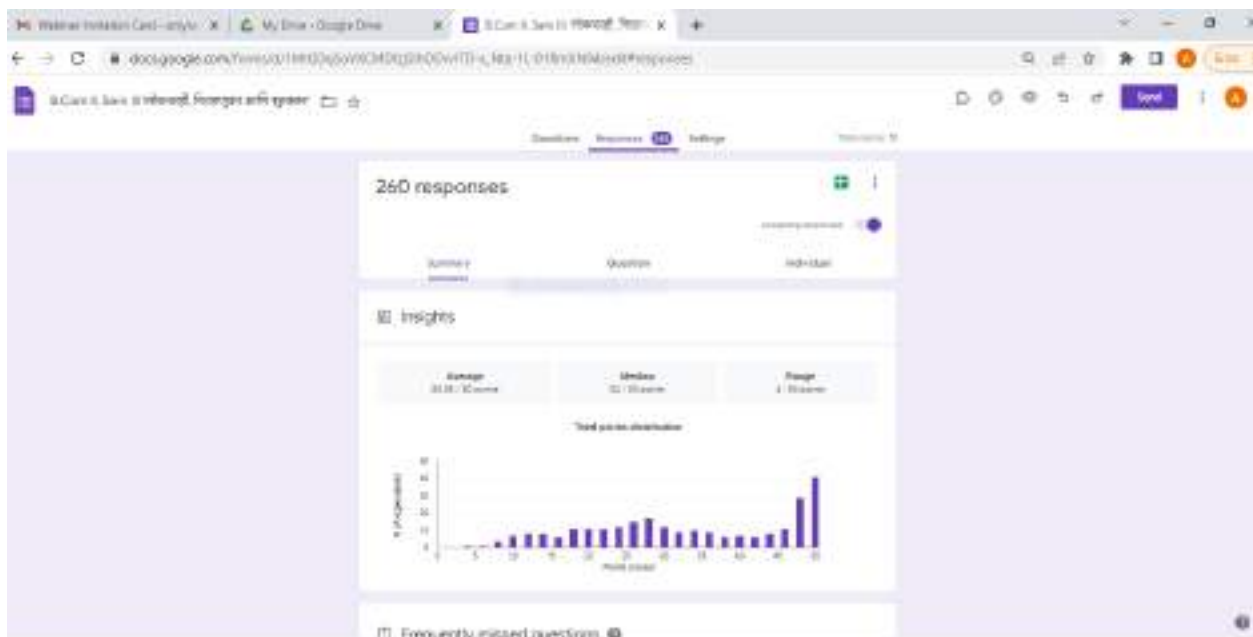

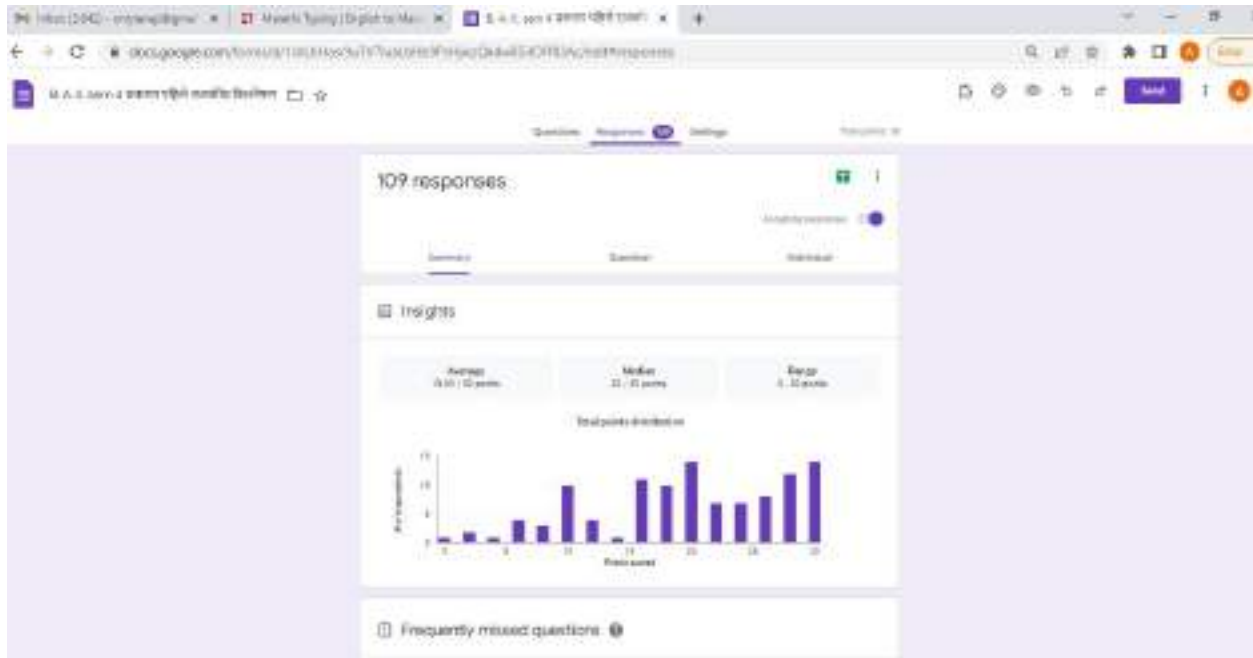

③ Innovative Practices: In many of the colleges, the innovative practices like debate, group discussion are not arranged. But we think, any language can be learnt only in the situations. So at the time of debate etc. students become integrated (connected) with the process. They learn to think in English.

④ Indian Drama: In English literature of B.A. Third Year, we studied two plays by Shakespeare, one by G.B. Shaw and by Anton Chekhov. But we think, we will understand an Indian play better than a foreign. So it could be easy for us to express ourselves in English.

So we humbly appeal to the authority to consider our thoughts, emotions and experiences expressed in this letter. We will not be able to study these things.

Sir,

I, here, submit some topics in response to your appeal on GETA what's app group for suggestions to design the syllabus for B. A. III year.

As I have already received a letter from the students of B. A. III of last year with suggestions regarding the inclusion of some topics in the new syllabus, I forward the same to you.

I have also attached the letter herewith the mail.

The topics I wish to include in the syllabus are:

1. How to avoid common errors,
2. How to write and respond an e-mail,
3. Any of the Indian drama (for literature),
4. Activities for practice like group discussion, debate etc. and
5. How to face an interview.

I am also grateful to you and the BOS (English) for asking for suggestions from the academics.

Thank you very much sir

Sincerely yours

It's my pleasure to receive such nice and useful suggestions, sir. We already got the letter from your students and was discussed in the meeting of BOS, and we decided to introduce some of their suggestions. Even in literature, we included dramas by Indian dramatists.

The framing of Syllabus for Communicative English as per the directions from the University is going on, we will submit it to the University on coming Tuesday. Hope, the fraternity will find it useful and all will welcome the move.
